Phlebotomy Program

Program Overview

The Phlebotomy program provides education for individuals seeking a career in the laboratory as a California Certified Phlebotomy Technician I (CPT I).

The 320-hour basic certified CPT I Program provides 80 hours didactic theory, 80 hours in-class practicum, and 160 hours clinical. The didactic and in-class practicum will take place at the main campus in Richmond, California. The clinical portion will take place at participating affiliates in Northern California. Program participants can expect substantial off-campus study in preparation for classroom training.

Individuals who successfully complete the Basic/Advanced Phlebotomy Technician program will receive a certificate of completion from KPSAHS allowing students to sit for the National certification examination. Upon passing the National examination graduates are eligible to apply to the State of California for CPT I certification.

Phlebotomist Duties

The primary responsibilities for the Certified Phlebotomy Technician I involve venipuncture, skin puncture, specimen processing, and patient registration.
